To any possible future customers...

As the owner of a candle and gift company, finding reliable quality suppliers can be tough. Finding affordable supplies can be even worse. I cannot express enough my delight in discovering Cutter Pro's! Their inventory of vinyl and accessories is huge, giving me so many options to expand what I can offer my own customers. Not to mention the savings to me, that I can also pass on. As for customer service, Cutter Pro's really remembers what that phrase means. Cheryl (the lovely lady who helped me first on the phone, then in shop) spent quite a bit of time educating me on equipment, materials, and options to expand my gift inventory, and did it all with professionalism, patience and kindness. Not once did she make me feel as if I were imposing on her, or interfering with her day.

If you are looking for quality materials, equipment and truly good customer service, go see Cutter Pro's. They have absolutely earned a life-long customer in me.
